Location TBD

POSITION: The Enterprise Program of the US Forest Service is outreaching to find the best candidate for our upcoming Archeological Technician position. The duty station will be negotiated.

The selected incumbent(s), interprets, and applies technical guidelines to analyze archeological data in preparing reports, for situations where precedents are not fully applicable. Makes recommendations to be used in "determinations of effect" and "determinations of eligibility" by the archeologist. Compiles and reports information about the nature and extent of known cultural resources. Incumbent also helps with marketing Enterprise Program Heritage services, and obtaining and performing work that contributes to the care and understanding of heritage resources. Up to four positions may be filled as a permanent seasonal with a guarantee of 13 pay periods. Positions may be filled on one or more Enterprise Units. The selected applicants must possess highly developed skills in communications and human relations in order to maintain good working relationships with customers and other team members. Incumbent must have knowledge of Forest Service policies and procedures. This position requires approximately 80 percent travel.

Interested applicants should be energetic, responsible, self-directed, possess skills in economic and social analysis and be proficient in communication and human relations to maintain good working relationships with partners and peers. In addition, knowledge of Forest Service policies and procedures is preferred.

The Enterprise Program emphasis is on partnerships and the delivery of seamless customer service to our clients.
“The Enterprise Program is a unique resource, comprised of skilled and experienced Forest Service employees who help us get our work done”—Forest Service Chief Tom Tidwell

Those who return the attached Outreach Response Form will be notified when the vacancy announcement is advertised in USAJobs.
About the Enterprise Program

The Enterprise Program was recently endorsed by the ELT to be a permanent, national program and, as such, it is an exciting time to be part of the Enterprise Program!

The Enterprise Program was initiated in 1997 by Region 5 as part of the National Performance Review. The program was created to support increased productivity and effectiveness through implementing business practices within a Government structure. The program has become national in scope. The Enterprise Program offers a new way of doing business.

Enterprise Units are Forest Service resources that offer an internal choice for the accomplishment of the agency’s work. These teams of dedicated Forest Service employees operate as independent, financially self-sustaining units funded by the clients/customers who benefit from the products and services they offer. There are currently 17 Enterprise Units offering a wide range of offerings and employees located across the nation. As the Enterprise Program enters its second decade exciting changes are in the wind.

What it offers

Choice — Enterprise Units provide an alternate choice for Forest Service units to obtain support and services.

Financial Accountability — Enterprise Units receive no direct appropriated funds and must be completely self-sustaining financially. As such, unit members develop heightened awareness of costs, delivery of quality, and gains in efficiencies.

Work with a Purpose — Enterprise Units do not work for profit like commercial businesses. They work for the purpose of contributing to the Forest Service Mission, and through their training and experience exercise a discriminating awareness of effectiveness and efficiencies.

Spreading Cost Awareness — Forest Service units that utilize enterprise services frequently are exposed to how enterprise recognizes expenses and calculates rates of cost recovery used to estimate project costs. This begins the expansion of true cost recognition beyond the nucleolus of enterprise.
“The Enterprise Program is a unique resource, comprised of skilled and experienced Forest Service employees who help us get our work done”—Forest Service Chief Tom Tidwell
